ONLY SIX SURVIVE WRECK OF HESTIA

Awful Experience of Men Who Were Lashed to Rigging: Faced Death Many Hours.

EASTPORT, Me., Oct. 27,-The six men who, half starved and benumbed from exposure, were rescued from their perilous position in the rigging of the stranded steamer Hestia yesterday, are believed tonight to be the only survivors of the forty-one men and boys who were aboard the Donaldson liner when she struck the jagged Old Proprietor ledge, off Seal cove, Grand Manan island, Monday morning.

Three bodies came ashore on the southwest shore of Nova Scotia today, two in a boat which drifted on the beach near Varmouth, and the third in another boat which was found near Salmon river.

Recount Experiences.

Recovering tomewhat from their experience, the rescued men were able to give more definite information regarding what took place after the steamer went on the ledges. Third Mate Stewart said the Hestia reached the end of her last voyage Monday morning instead of Tuesday morning, as had been previously supposed, and that he and his five comrades who were unable to find places in the boats which were launched when it was decided to abandon the ship, remained lashed to the rigging for thirty-eight hours without food or water, before they were taken off by the life-savers. Recovering comewhat from their ex water, before they were taken off by the life-savers.

So far as can be ascertsized those on board the Hestia comprised Captain Newman, a crew of thirty-five, three eattlemen and two boys.

Of Interest to Mothers.

There is one subject which always interests the mothers of young children, and that is how to treat their coughs and colds, or to ward off a threatened attack of croup. For this purpose we eas recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always proves beneficial to case of croup it should be given as soon us the croupy cough appears, so as to prevent the attack. Keep it at hand ready for instant user Most nothers do so, and it saves them much oneusiness. For sale by all druggists.
